Letter From Our CEO

Thank you just doesn't seem like enough to express our gratitude for your generous support. For the thousands of children and families we serve, your help means so much. It means a nonverbal child with Autism learning to sign their first words and their classroom of peers sign back. It means a child who wasn't supposed to lift their head takes their first steps. It means access to free early education and childcare for a family struggling to make a living wage.

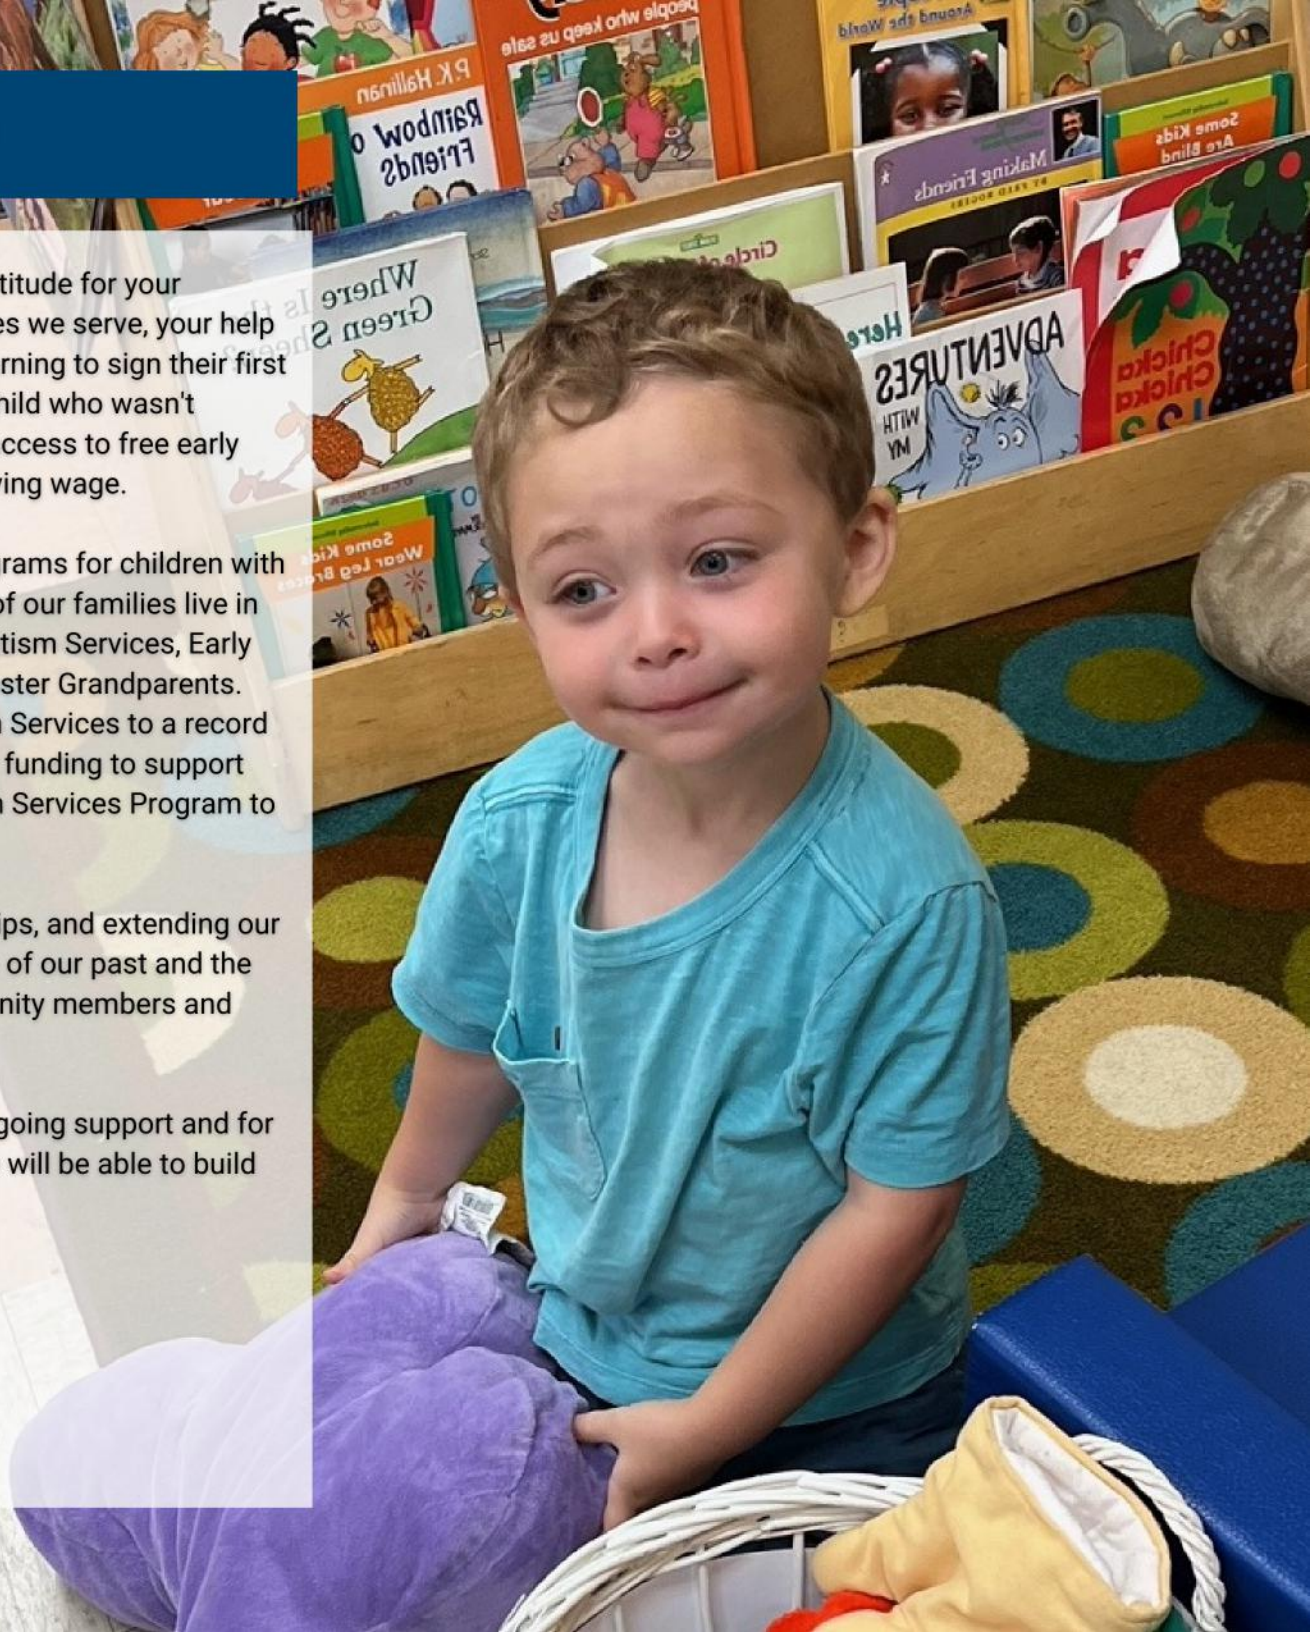

You may know that we provide a range of services and programs for children with disabilities, their families, and the community; the majority of our families live in poverty. Our programs include Early Education and Care, Autism Services, Early Intervention, Mental Health, Champions for Children, and Foster Grandparents. With you by our side this year, we've provided Mental Health Services to a record number of children and their families, advocated for federal funding to support home and community-based services, expanded our Autism Services Program to meet the growing need, and so much more.

We look forward to opportunities for growth, new partnerships, and extending our reach to more children and families in need. The successes of our past and the potential for the future are made possible by caring community members and generous supporters like YOU.

On behalf of the entire team at ESNG, thank you for your ongoing support and for being an essential member of our community. Together, we will be able to build toward a world of total equity, inclusion, and access for all.

With Much Gratitude,

Donna Davidson
President & CEO

Champions for Children

Our vision is a world where there is 100% equity, inclusion, and access for all children.

Here at Easterseals North Georgia our team works tirelessly to provide essential services and community-based supports to more than 5 thousand children and their families each year – from early childhood programs for the critical first five years, to therapies for children facing delays, autism services, family support, and more. We won't rest until every child is 100% included, 100% empowered, and 100% prepared to reach their full potential.

Enriching Education

Programs designed to help children master skills they need to develop and thrive. In an inclusive setting children receive comprehensive individualized services built to prepare them for success in school and in life. ESNG facilities feature safe and caring environments, state-of-the-art tools and programs, highly qualified teachers, low child-adult ratios, and active parent-centered partnerships.

Enhancing Health

Hands-on, vital therapies through home and community-based services designed to ensure the health and wellbeing of children with disabilities and developmental delays. Services help young children achieve their cognitive, communicative, social/emotional, adaptive, and physical development goals so that they may reach their full potential.

Elevating Community

Advancing public policy and advocacy to positively shape perceptions – and to address the urgent and evolving needs of people living with disabilities and other barriers to equity, inclusion, and access today. We are dedicated to ensuring that all children have equal opportunities to live, learn, work, and play in their communities by being in their corner at every critical stage of their lives.

Making A Lasting Impact

Moving the Equity Needle Through Adaptive Technology

What started as a partnership between EPAM Systems Managing Principal, Clark Varner and Easterseals Greater Houston Affiliate quickly became an opportunity for expanding on local efforts to increase equity, inclusion, and access for children in need living in Georgia.

We cannot thank the team at EPAM Atlanta enough for supporting our ESNG Kids and our mission. Because of them, we were able to give away 13 adaptive technology Go Baby Go cars to children with disabilities at our annual Trick or Treat Trot Family Fall Festival. Not only did this add an extra special component to this year's event but it truly impacted these children, their families, and us in such a big way.

Closing the Gap in the Early Childhood Workforce

As one of the largest providers of early childhood development in the state of Georgia, we know how vital early development is to a child's future. This is why we have allied with CDF Action and the Refugee Women's Network to provide training and career opportunities through our CDA program. This initiative was piloted with 20 diverse and multilingual individuals within the community to provide 120 hours of classroom training, personalized coaching, primary language interpretation as needed, and an array of supports to help ensure their successful completion of activities required to obtain the CDA credential.

In addition to completing the requisite hours of classroom experience, students will meet requirements for their CPR and First Aid certificate, create a portfolio and resume specific to the field, be observed by a certified Professional Development Specialist (PDS) who speaks the language of the student, submit a CDA application, have the exam scheduled and completed, and secure a teaching position.

ESNG will continue to refine and expand this initiative to not only fill the gaps in the early childhood workforce but to also support individuals in the community in moving towards self sufficiency

Healthy Child and Nurtured Mind

As physical well-being contributes to a child's readiness for school, Head Start places a strong emphasis on the overall health and well-being of the children served. Whether it is educating parents about their children's health concerns, like allergies or other chronic conditions, or making sure children receive at minimum two-thirds of their daily nutritional needs, the main goal of our Health and Nutrition Specialists is the health, safety, and well-being of our ESNG Kids while they are under our care here at Easterseals. With the help of our Family Support Associates (FSAs), the Health and Nutrition Team works behind the scenes to ensure that children have routine physicals, dentals, immunizations, hearing, and vision screenings, special diet plans, and anything else they may need to keep them healthy and thriving. To ensure food security every child in our Early Education Program receives two balanced meals and a snack every day completely free to our families.

Early Intervention Program

Face-To-Face Services Are Back!

For two years the pandemic forced our Early Intervention Program, Babies Can't Wait, to alter service provision to Tele-Intervention. While we are grateful to have provided these critical services despite the pandemic, in-home therapy allows children and their families to reap the full benefit of the program and to see optimal results. The barriers presented by virtual therapy such as the lack of hands-on modeling, positioning, and help with feeding can cause many children to see delays in progress. We are happy to announce that effective March 1st our therapists have now returned to in-home services and were excited to bring back this personal touch to our families in their own environment.

For more than 20 years, Easterseals North Georgia has understood the importance of Early Childhood Mental Health.

Georgia Passes Mental Health Parity Act

Another Step Forward in Georgia's Fight for Mental Health Services!

We at Easterseals North Georgia are passionate advocates for children and their families and continue to fight for equitable access to needed services within systematically underserved communities. We have been an active part of the coalition to successfully raise awareness about the issue of Mental Health across the state while educating policymakers. During the 2022 state legislative session, the Georgia General Assembly voted unanimously to pass the Mental Health Parity Act, ensuring that the state will enforce equality in insurance coverage for behavioral health care for the first time. The Mental Health Parity Act will help Georgians access affordable mental health and substance use disorder treatment for themselves and their children by ensuring that public and private health insurance plans cover behavioral health equitably with physical health.

This means:

- Insurance companies can no longer deny coverage for medically necessary behavioral health treatment.
- Families will no longer have to pay out of pocket for needed care due to arbitrary coverage limits and denials.
- In time, more behavioral health specialists will join the workforce because they will be paid adequately for their services, and hopefully, more providers will join insurance panels and accept both private and public insurance.
- Future relief from long wait times and lack of behavioral health care providers in many areas of our state.
- More children and adults may receive early intervention that can prevent a crisis down the road.

We are delighted that the Mental Health Parity Act provides mental health services for children under the age of five years. Many thanks to House Speaker David Ralston, who spearheaded the bill!

Early Childhood Mental Health Matters

Across the nation, children from low-income households are at increased risk for mental health problems that affect their chances of reaching educational success. Children in Georgia are among some of the most affected. Unfortunately, access to mental health care for their young children can be challenging for families in need either from a lack of providers, health insurance, or Medicaid coverage.

For over 20 years, ESNB has provided services to meet the social-emotional needs of children from birth to 6 years. We provide treatment to 150-250 children and their families annually using evidence-based treatments implemented by licensed clinicians. Currently, ESNB is working to expand our Infant Early Childhood Mental Health program by providing intensive individualized treatment to an additional 200 children over the next three years. Children with significant concerns such as anxiety disorders, attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder, conduct disorder, depression, and posttraumatic stress disorders will be served across our child development center locations in Fulton, Gwinnett, DeKalb, Walton, Barrow, Jackson, and Madison counties.

Support for the Whole Family

Meet our Family Support Advocates! This incredible team works tirelessly every day to build partnerships with parents and entire families in order to maximize the strengths and unique experiences of each child, increase parenting skills, assist families in achieving educational, employment, and self-sufficiency goals, and provide emergency supports when needed. ESNG's case management and family support approach builds on family strengths, is culturally sensitive, links families to appropriate community resources, and empowers families toward optimal functioning and well-being. This team plays a key role in our mission and changes the lives of children and families across Georgia on a daily basis. Thank you for being apart of the ESNG Family!

ESNG launches Navigator Training

ESNG has developed and launched a new initiative called Navigator Training which provides our teachers with the latest, most effective strategies to support children of all abilities, including those with Autism. As pioneers in early childhood development and education, ESNG knows how important it is to tailor our programs and services to meet children and families where they are. We are uniquely positioned to address the needs facing children with disabilities and other special needs so they can thrive in their communities. This includes our services for children with Autism who participate in all of ESNG's programs like our Early Intervention & Therapy Services and Early Education & Care Program.

Team member Katelyn Ward spearheads our Navigation Training with our teachers. These additional in-person trainings build upon the knowledge and skills they already have and better equips them to work with children of all abilities and needs. Trainings are child-focused and teacher need directed with the intention of creating positive and sustained life outcomes, greater connectivity to communities and services, and the ability to self-advocate. In addition, she provides guided MCPP training demonstrating how to deal with difficult and aggressive behaviors in the classroom.

Our programs and services are customized to the individual, including physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and evidence-based treatments such as the PLAY Project, Applied Behavioral Analysis, RUBI Parent Training, and family navigation.

Top-Notch Education Program | NAEYC Accreditation and Quality Rated

ESNG is committed to achieving accreditation for each of our centers through the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) and Georgia Quality Rated. NAEYC represents the mark of quality in early childhood education. Easter Seals North Georgia aims to have all of our centers accredited by NAEYC. To become accredited is a voluntary choice made by Easter Seals North Georgia to confirm our commitment to the highest quality standards in early childhood education for our children, families, and staff. Quality Rated is a systemic approach to assess, improve, and communicate the level of quality in early and school-age care and education programs. Similar to rating systems for other service-related industries, Quality Rated assigns a quality rating to early and school-age care and education programs that meet a set of defined program standards. An Early Childhood Center must be in operation for an entire year before embarking on the Quality Rated or NAEYC accreditation.

Last year, ESNG made huge strides with accreditations from The National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). Our Premier center earned NAEYC Accreditation and our Sylvan Center maintained its accreditation.

Earning NAEYC Accreditation is quite an accomplishment. As the world's largest organization of early childhood professionals, NAEYC created ten (10) standards for high-quality education programs. In order to earn the accreditation all 10 standards must be met.

The Standards:

- Relationships
- Curriculum
- Teaching
- Assessment of Child Progress
- Health
- Staff Competency, Preparation and Support
- Families
- Community Relationships
- Physical Environment
- Leadership and Management

ESNG also participates in Georgia's voluntary Quality Rated program. Despite being short-staffed following the pandemic, some of our centers even boosted their Quality Rated stars!

Much More Than Childcare.

The Classroom Assessment Scoring System (CLASS) is a nationally recognized standardized assessment tool that measures teacher/child interactions and the emotional and instructional climate of the classroom. The data gathered is used for program improvement and informing professional development planning. OHS has set a minimum score requirement in three domains: Emotional Support, Classroom Organization, and Instructional Support.

CHILD OUTCOMES

ESNG uses Teaching Strategies Gold (TSG) as the assessment tool for our Head Start and Early Head Start programs. Teachers observed, documented, and evaluated each child's progress on an ongoing basis and entered developmental level scores at specified checkpoints during the year. The assessment information is used to develop lesson plans and individualize each child's learning. The following tables reflect Easterseals North Georgia's most recent Early Childhood Outcome Data as reported through our Early Education and Care Program.

PARENT, FAMILY, & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Families play a critical role in preparing their children for school and for a lifetime of academic success. In Head Start/Early Head Start, parent and family engagement activities are systemic and integrated across program foundations and program impact areas. Because of this, family engagement outcomes are achieved, resulting in children who are healthy and ready for school.

Parent and family engagement activities are grounded in positive, ongoing, and goal-oriented relationships with families. Easter Seals measures seven family outcomes that help lead to overall school readiness for children. These seven family outcomes are as follows:

- 1) Family Well-Being, 2) Positive Parent-Child Relationships, 3) Families as lifelong Educators, 4) Family As Learners, 5) Family Engagement In Transitions, 6) Family Connections To Peers And Community, 7) Families as Advocates and Leaders.
